"For the next century man used nature thoughtlessly and abused wilderness without conscience or future goals." The Mineral King Film illustrates one example of man's abuse of his environment.

Join us for coffee and refreshments after the screening; let's get acquainted and talk about Mineral King! The fight to save this area will depend in large part on the number of people who become acquainted with Mineral King, the facts behind the issue and voice their objection to the proposed Disney-Forest Service development. It is our hope that the film will greatly aid in achieving this goal. The Mineral King documentary film has been financed at the sole expense of those people interested in saving this valley, but unfortunately those finances are now all but gone when further funds are needed to make prints available to everyone. If you found the film informative and feel it will be of value to others, we ask that you make a contribution to assist us in this goal and thereby join us in helping to SAVE MINERAL KING.
